WORLD TEACHERS DAY

World Teachers' Day, is held annually on October 5th since 1994 - when it was created by UNESCO – and is celebrated worldwide. Its aim is to mobilise support for teachers and to ensure that the needs of future generations will continue to be met by teachers. The theme of the World Teachers' Day this year is the “Role of Teachers in Quality Higher Education”.

About the Seminar

The 12th Five-Year Plan, 2012-17, Inclusive & Qualitative Expansion of Higher Education of the UGC document has devoted a full chapter for enhancing quality and excellence in higher education. In the introduction of the chapter it says:

- Higher Education is about promoting excellence in more ways than one: at individual level, it is an instrument of upward mobility through cultivation of excellence; for national economy, excellence of work force is a pre-requisite of sustained growth; and for humankind, excellence is a must for extending the frontiers of knowledge and cultivation of values. Deepening of excellence requires simultaneous and multi-dimension effort at improving the quality of higher education: generous support for individuals and institutions who work at the highest level and in the frontiers of knowledge, measures to uplift the quality of teaching-learning in an average institution and support for attempts to redefine relevant knowledge in keeping with our context.
- The toughest challenge of excellence lies in improving the quality of teaching-learning in a majority of non-elite universities and colleges which continue to admit but fail to do justice to an overwhelming proportion of our talented students.
- This would require that research and teaching-learning should be encouraged to encounter the context and needs of our society, its traditions of knowledge and the challenge of effective fostering of Constitutional values.

Therefore, it is the need of the hour that right in the beginning of the 12th Plan, University should organize focused programmes for sensitizing faculty and University administrators to the needs of providing quality higher education. Present seminar is a step in this direction to reach out to the faculty members of the Himachal Pradesh University and in the affiliated colleges. The role of teachers in this direction is pivotal and he/she needs to take responsibility for it so as to satisfy the needs of its stakeholders i.e. students.

OBJECTIVES & THEMES

- To sensitize teachers about their role and responsibility in quality higher education, as the foremost leaders in assuring quality.
- Role of the teacher to produce highly competent men and women as leaders in various areas of society: Agriculture, Arts, Medical, Science & Technology, Social Science and various other professions.
- Issues and challenges before the teacher to take up leadership role in quality higher education.

Participants will be issued participation certificate by the Director IQAC, HPU.
